

Thanks Laras for reading my email,

Yeah I acknowledge the missing data, I realized the mistake a few minutes after i sent the last email, i include the February's data in this email so you shouldn't worry.

For the last two months though, we had an issue due to any request that was given to our team only stated verbally, and worse there is no any system to serve as reminder, our team was so overwhelmed by that. Also in a few days our SV will launch a SOP between divisions for any datasets that other divisions will request. I hope this new system will help our team and others too.

By the way, I'm not too sure about which part of December's data is incorrect since I double-tripled it, and the formula is the same. You might have to mark the wrong part so we can fix it ASAP.

Thanks again for the heads up, I'm available at Monday Afternoon, @ 2-4 p.m if you need me directly
